Excerpt: . total (1,000) marks may be obtained by adequate proficiency in any two or more of the five branches of science included under this head. Moral Sciences: that is, Logic, Mental, and Moral Philosophy 500. Jurisprudence. 375 Political Economy 375 Candidates are at liberty to offer themselves for examination in any or all of these subjects. No subjects are obligatory. There can be no question as to the difficult character of this examination. No amount of mere cramming can possibly qualify for so severe a test. It must be remembered also that no marks whatever are allowed for a subject unless a competent knowledge of that subject is exhibited in the examination paper. We have reason to believe that the system adopted by the Commissioners is to strike off 125 marks from the total obtained by every candidate in every subject. Thus the mere...
