I wish nothing but good; therefore, everyone who does not agree with me is a traitor and a scoundrel. - King George III When he died in 1820, King George III had presided over the longest reign by a monarch in England s history and ruled the British Empire during one of its most turbulent and important periods, but he was remembered by the unappealing sobriquets The Mad King and The King Who Lost America. The British remembered him based on the fact that he began suffering serious mental illnesses by the end of his life, and he was even more despised in America, with Jefferson summing up the public opinion of the British king in a letter to then-ambassador John Adams: We I hope shall be left free to avail ourselves of the advantages...
